How does it feel to be used and abused?

That's what AOHELL and Netscape are doing to the justice department.

If netscape and AOHELL want to be as good as microsoft let them build a better browser. If the complaint is that internet explorer is free well, DUH so is netscape

Netscape has NOT improved it's browser since AOL got hold of it, and I think that AOL doesn't have the technical knowledge or expertise to do so either. AOL'S plan must be to keep taking microsoft to court and try to stay compative that way. In the long and short run we, all of us lose that way.
